Email 1: Requesting an Extension on Assignment Submission

Subject: Request for Extension on Assignment Submission

Respected Professor Ghosh,

I hope you're doing well.

I wanted to reach out and request a small extension for Tutorial 1, which is due on 25th March 2026. Over the last few days, I've been recovering from dengue, and it's been quite difficult to focus and work at my usual pace.

I didn't want to submit something rushed or incomplete just to meet the deadline. I genuinely care about the quality of my work and would like to turn in an assignment that properly reflects my understanding and effort.

If it's possible, I would be really grateful if I could have an additional week, until 1 April 2026, to complete and submit it.

I completely understand that extensions aren't always possible, and I truly appreciate you taking the time to consider my request. Please let me know if you would like any medical proof or further details.

Thank you for your understanding and support.

Sincerely,

Krish Jakher

Email 2: Expressing Interest in Summer Internship

Dear Ms. Nair,

I hope you're doing well.

My name is Krish Jakher , and I'm a first-year B.Tech Computer Science Engineering student at VIT Bhopal. I'm writing to express my interest in any summer internship opportunities at Microsoft.

I've always found Microsoft's work in technology and software development really inspiring, and it's a place where I'd genuinely love to learn and grow. Over the past year, through both my coursework and personal projects, I've built a foundation in web development, data structures and algorithms using Java and C++, along with some basic understanding of operating systems.

I'm eager to take these skills beyond the classroom and apply them in a real-world environment, while also learning from experienced professionals. Even being a small part of your team would mean a lot in terms of exposure and growth.

If there are any internship opportunities available, or if you could guide me on how to apply, I would truly appreciate it. I've attached my resume for your review.

Thank you so much for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Warm regards,

Krish Jakher
